Ruiz-Healy Art at IFPDA Fine Art Print Fair October 07 – November 01, 2020

Ruiz-Healy Art is pleased to announce the gallery's seventh year of participation in the prestigious IFPDA Fine Art Print Fair taking place, this year, in a hybrid online / in-person format. The works will be available for view on Artsy in addition to socially distanced in-person appointments at our NYC gallery. This year, Ruiz-Healy Art will highlight nine printmakers from the gallery's stable of artists including: Ethel Shipton, Richard Armendariz, Constance Lowe, Cecilia Paredes, Nate Cassie, Francisco Toledo, Kelly O'Connor, Pedro Friedeberg and Roger Von Gunten.

The works featured in the IFPDA Fine Art Print Fair display Apollonian and Dionysian concepts, highlighting qualities of both theories and how they naturally appear in works of art. Apollonian, originating from the god Apollo, refers to reason, harmony and rational thinking. Apollonian tendencies manifest as the orderly and restrained repetition seen in Pedro Friedeberg's Desfile de Perros and the harmony of composition and line in Constance Lowe's Marchland I. Dionysian characteristics, derived from the god Dionysus, are based on emotion and instinct. This is displayed in Richard Armendariz's Muro Hopper in the chaos created by shape and detail. Many of the works in this show display elements of both theories, examining the balance that is created through visual elements.

About the IFPDA

The International Fine Print Dealers Association (IFPDA) is a non-profit organization of leading art dealers and galleries with expertise in the field of fine prints. Members are committed to the highest standards of quality, ethics, and connoisseurship, and to promoting a greater appreciation of fine prints among collectors and the public. Members are selected only after a rigorous application process; the dealers must exhibit a high level of expertise, adhere to a strict code of conduct with professional integrity, be invited by another member dealer, and will not even be considered unless established in business for at least five years. Ruiz-Healy Art is one of only two such member dealers in the state of Texas and the only member in the city of San Antonio.
